Chapter 32

- 32,1 [A Psalm] of David. Maschil. Happy is he whose transgression is forgiven, whose sin is pardoned.
- 32,2 Happy is the man unto whom the Lord counteth not iniquity, and in whose spirit there is no guile.
- 32,3 When I kept silence, my bones wore away through my groaning all the day long.
- 32,4 For day and night Thy hand was heavy upon me; my sap was turned as in the droughts of summer. Selah
- 32,5 I acknowledged my sin unto Thee, and mine iniquity have I not hid; I said: 'I will make confession concerning my transgressions unto the Lord'-- and Thou, Thou forgavest the iniquity of my sin. Selah
- 32,6 For this let every one that is godly pray unto Thee in a time when Thou mayest be found; surely, when the great waters overflow, they will not reach unto him.
- 32,7 Thou art my hiding-place; Thou wilt preserve me from the adversary; with songs of deliverance Thou wilt compass me about. Selah
- 32,8 'I will instruct thee and teach thee in the way which thou shalt go; I will give counsel, Mine eye being upon thee.'
- 32,9 Be ye not as the horse, or as the mule, which have no understanding; whose mouth must be held in with bit and bridle, that they come not near unto thee.
- 32,10 Many are the sorrows of the wicked; but he that trusteth in the Lord, mercy compasseth him about.
- 32,11 Be glad in the Lord, and rejoice, ye righteous; and shout for joy, all ye that are upright in heart.
